It's easy to open an account.
Call 1-800-USE-BofA for the branch nearest you.

Ned from Portland sleeps, eats, and breathes basketball. Especially Blazer basketball. He's got all the Blazer gear, too. And now he's even got an official Blazer Banking checkbook. Filled with official Blazer checks. It's all from Bank of America.

Blazer Banking. For fanatics only.

B of A has improved banking by staying open on Saturdays, guaranteeing you won't wait more than five minutes to see a teller, giving you access to your account 24 hours a day, and much more. But Ned cares more about the Blazer checks he got when he opened his B of A account. Now there's a man who's got his priorities straight.

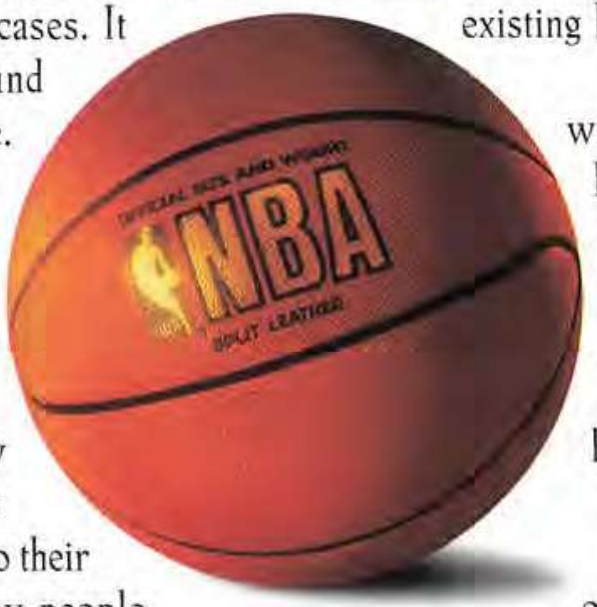
We're Using This To Rebuild Neighborhoods.

A basketball. You've seen what it can do on the court. It fills seats and trophy cases. It makes hearts pound and feet scramble. It makes whistles blow, scoreboards light up, and coaches proud.



Starting this year, the very same ball that can bring sports fans to their feet will get many people into homes.

That's because the Trail Blazers are teaming up with Fannie Mae to form "Portland's Home Team." This ongoing partnership will help revitalize neighborhoods with special needs in Portland.

How can we make a difference? In Portland, the Fannie Mae Foundation will be making a grant to HOST Development, Inc. And in the years to come, Fannie Mae and the Trail Blazers will be working together to construct new homes and rehabilitate existing houses.

Fannie Mae will also provide helpful information on reducing the barriers to homeownership by conducting home buying fairs and through our consumer outreach program known as "Opening Doors."

As the nation's leading source of mortgage funds, we've made a commitment to increase housing opportunities for the people who need them the most.

The next time you see a Trail Blazers game, keep your eye on the ball.

And remember, this year Fannie Mae and the Trail Blazers are shooting for something higher than the basket.

The Memorial Coliseum

Conclusion of a 25-year homestand in Memorial Coliseum will be one of many happenings marking Portland's Silver Anniversary season. Next year, the Blazers take their game a hundred or so feet across a broad pedestrian plaza to their classy new home, the 20,000-plus seat Rose Garden.

The Coliseum, built in 1960, has proved an excellent home base for Portland's first and only major professional sports franchise. The glassed-in arena has been host to plenty of drama and excitement over the two-plus decades. Included in the Blazers' repertoire of 1,052 games played there through the first 24 years have been nine NBA Finals games among 70 post-season playoff contests. In 1992, the world looked inside Memorial Coliseum when Portland hosted the Basketball Tournament of the Americas and witnessed the debut of Dream Team I.

And, Portland fans who made Blazermania a common noun in the professional basketball vocabulary, helped the franchise set attendance records in the coliseum that are unmatched in all of sports. Portland enters the 25th Anniversary Season with 769 consecutive sellouts, an all-time sports record. Over the first 24 years, the Blazers filled the coliseum to 93 percent capacity based on published maximum seating numbers. By the time the final regular season game is played there on Sunday, April 23, nearly 13 million fans will have crowded into the coliseum to watch and cheer on their Blazers.

The team's move to the Rose Garden next year, however, dosen't spell the end for the Coliseum. It will remain alongside its new and larger neighbor and serve as part of the Rose Quarter, one of the nation's finest sports and entertainment complexes.

BLAZERS OPEN SILVER ANNIVERSARY SEASON IN JAPAN

Portland opens its Silver Anniversary season 5,000 miles from home, playing the Los Angeles Clippers in a pair of games Nov. 4 and 5, in Yokohama, Japan.

The Blazers-Clippers games mark the third time in the last five years that teams from the NBA have opened the regular season in Japan.

The openers in the Yokohama Arena are in response to the growing appetite for NBA basketball in Japan, according to NBA Commissioner David Stern.

Stern said The Japan Opening Games have become a highlight of the league's calendar. "The interest in the NBA in Japan has grown tremendously and we feel that these games are the focal point of all our activities there."

In 1990, the NBA became the first professional league to play regular season games outside North America. That year, Phoenix and Utah met for a pair of games in Tokyo. Two years later, Seattle and Houston opened the season with two games in Yokohama.

The Japan games will mark the second and third times the Blazers have played a regular season contest outside the United States. On March 10, 1974, Portland lost to the Buffalo Braves in Toronto.

Friday's game in Japan will be televised live on TNT at 8 p.m., PST, in Portland. Both Friday and Saturday's games will also be carried live on the Trail Blazers Radio Network. Saturday's game is scheduled to start at 7 p.m., PST.

The Trail Blazers' Clifford Robinson was a big hit when he joined an NBA goodwill team in Japan this summer. He was there to help to promote the Trail Blazers-Clippers season openers in Yokohama in November.

PAUL ALLEN

Paul Allen is in his seventh year as Chairman of the Portland Trail Blazers.

"In our 25th anniversary season, the Portland Trail Blazers are celebrating a history distinguished by success on and off the basketball court, and at the same time are seeing a new beginning under the direction of head coach P.J. Carlesimo," Allen says. "We are confident that the changes we have made, specifically the addition of Carlesimo and Bob Whitsitt, will serve as the foundation to continue the success that has characterized this franchise for the past two decades.

"We hope that the Blazers' final season in Memorial Coliseum will be one that both brings back and creates great memories for our fans who've made it one of the best places to play in the entire NBA," Allen adds. "We're in the final phases of construction of The Rose Garden, which we believe will set new standards for sports and entertainment facilities. It's sure to help make our next 25 years even better than our first 25."

Allen owns and invests in a suite of companies that promote the potential of multimedia communications. He owns and serves as chairman of Asymetrix Corporation, Starwave Corporation, Interval Research Corp., Ticketmaster Holdings Group Ltd, Vulcan Northwest Inc., and The Paul Allen Group, and holds significant investments in multiple technology companies. Together with fellow Seattle native Bill Gates, Allen founded the computer software firm Microsoft in 1975. He served as Mircosoft's executive vice president of research and new product development until 1983. Allen remains a major shareholder and serves on Microsoft's board of directors. Allen also serves on the board of directors of Egghead Discount Software and Darwin Molecular Corp.

A resident of Mercer Island, Washington, the 41-year old Allen attended Lakeside School in Seattle and Washington State University.

BERT KOLDE

Bert Kolde serves as Vice Chairman of the Trail Blazers.

"This is a year of transition for the Portland Trail Blazers and our fans," Kolde says. "In the final season of games at Memorial Coliseum we celebrate 25 years of achievement and honor those who have fostered a legacy that has seen the Blazers advance to the playoffs for the last 12 seasons—the longest current streak in the NBA. Several commemorative events are planned for our 25th anniversary season that we hope our fans will enjoy being a part of.

"This year also is the beginning of a new period in the team's history," Kolde adds. "We feel we've put together an outstanding coaching staff, headed up by P.J. Carlesimo. Without a doubt this is as talented and experienced a group as you will find anywhere in the league. Bob Whitsitt, perhaps the most highly-regarded personnel mind in the business, directs our basketball operations as the new president of Blazers Basketball. We are very excited to have this group together as we look forward to this season and the years ahead in The Rose Garden."

Kolde is also President of Asymetrix Corporation, where he works closely with Paul Allen on setting Asymetrix's overall corporate direction and product strategies, and overseeing their implementation. Before joining Asymetrix in 1985, Kolde was vice president of management reporting at Seafirst Corporation in Seattle. He began his finance career with The Boeing Company.

Kolde earned his bachelor's of science degree in finance from Washington State University, after which he served as a U.S. Army officer in the Panama Canal Zone. He completed his master's degree in business administration at the University of Washington in 1980.

Kolde and his wife, Alison, have two sons, Bronson and Sterling, and daughter Sasha.

HARRY GLICKMAN

The Portland Trail Blazers, one of the most successful franchises in all of sports and a model for other organizations in professional basketball, point to the accomplishments of one man as the foundation for their rise to the top.

The man is Harry Glickman, now president emeritus of the Blazers.

It was more than just a fitting tribute to the highly successful Blazer president when he was enshrined in the Oregon Sports Hall of Fame in 1986. Glickman received the prestigious First Citizen Award for civic leadership in December of 1992.

The success of the Trail Blazers has been unequalled since Glickman first began wooing a franchise to Portland as early as the mid-1960's.

In January of 1970, Glickman went to the NBA meetings in Philadelphia with the backing for a franchise. Expansion into San Diego, Phoenix and Seattle, coupled with the transplanting of the Minneapolis Lakers to Los Angeles and Philadelphia Warriors to San Francisco, opened up the West Coast to the predominantly eastern league and enhanced Portland's bid for a team. At the Philadelphia meetings, Glickman found the ante had been increased for an expansion team. He returned home empty-handed but that initial setback was shortlived. A month later with new financial backing, the Trail Blazers were born at a meeting in Los Angeles.

Just seven seasons into existence, the Blazers brought a world championship to the city of Portland. Glickman's initial commitment to putting Portland at the forefront of the NBA has never wavered, avoiding the complacency that sometimes accompanies success.

Following the 1993-94 season the Blazers had sold out an astounding 769 consecutive home games at Memorial Coliseum. That's easily the longest string by any team in any sport.

Glickman was born in Portland and graduated from the University of Oregon School of Journalism in 1948 following a stint in Germany during World War II. He served as director of the university's athletic news bureau as a sophomore and covered the Ducks for The Oregonian during the era of Norm Van Brocklin, one of Glickman's close friends.

Plans to become a sportswriter were tabled as Glickman began to open doors for himself in the area of promotions and publicity. After founding Oregon Sports Attractions in 1952, he devoted his efforts to promoting boxing, professional football and the Harlem Globetrotters, as well as non-sports related activities such as the Northwest tour of Judy Garland and Liberace.

A pre-season football game between the Los Angeles Rams and the Chicago Cardinals in 1952 was staged by Glickman at Multnomah Civic Stadium. With more than 29,100 fans in attendance, it was his first sellout. He continued to bring the NFL to Portland until 1969.

Glickman served as manager of Multnomah Civic Stadium in 1958 and 1959

In the fall of 1960, Glickman brought professional hockey back to Portland after a 10-year absence, organizing the Portland Buckaroos of the old Western Hockey League. During the '60s, the Buckaroos finished first seven times and second twice in one nine-year stretch. They smashed every attendance record in professional hockey outside the then tightly-knit six-team National Hockey League. Glickman was named Hockey Executive of the Year by Hockey News in 1965.

Glickman's commitment to improving the quality of life for the people of Oregon has not been limited just to providing the benefits derived from the realm of sports. He is active in a wide variety of civic affairs. The crowning glory of his long career may be the development and construction of the Oregon Arena Project, the most ambitious and innovative entertainment complex in the country.

Glickman is also involved in Israeli sports activities. He serves on the U.S. Committee, Sports for Israel, which sponsors the highly-acclaimed Maccabiah Games (the international Jewish Olympics), and he also is on the board of the American Friends of Windgate, a school in Israel specializing in physical education. As a result, a basketball court for immigrant children near Jerusalem bears his name.

In addition to being an enshrinee in the Oregon Sports Hall of Fame, Glickman is also a Director Emeritus of the Hall. He has been named to the Webfoot Society of the University of Oregon and was among the first inductees of the Portland chapter of the University's Hall of Fame. Each year the State of Oregon's top professional athlete is honored with the Harry Glickman Professional Athlete of the Year award at The Oregonian Banquet of Champions.

Glickman and his wife, Joanne, have two daughters, Lynn and Jennifer; a son, Marshall; and grandson, Joel. Marshall is President of Trail Blazers, Inc., and the Oregon Arena Corp.

The most natural resource in all our products: good ideas.
Louisiana-Pacific has built its reputation as a leader in the development of innovative building products. We're dedicated to sustaining an ever-growing demand for durable, practical, affordable building products.
For example, to make our family of oriented strand board products, we used small, fast-growing trees, eliminated wood's natural weaknesses, and added our own designer label: Inner-Seal®. Our FiberBond® panels and Nature Guard® insulation use recycled wood fiber from newspaper. And our engineered wood products use laminating and finger-jointing techniques to make more out of less.
Whatever products L-P offers, today and in the future, you can be sure they'll always be based on one natural resource we'll never run out of: good ideas.

JODY PATTON

Jody Patton serves as vice chairman and owner's representative for the Oregon Arena Corporation, and owner's representative to the Portland Trail Blazers.

Following two years as senior vice president for OAC, Patton was promoted to her current post July 12, 1994. She is responsible for supervising the construction of the arena project, and representing the interests of Chairman Paul Allen.

"It's been very rewarding to be associated with the building of a leading sports and entertainment facility," says Patton. "Especially rewarding has been the opportunity to give back to the Portland community through the creation of new jobs, and community involvement efforts. We're very pleased with the progress we've accomplished this year."

"We're striving to create a complex that will be the source of pride for the entire community," Patton adds.

Patton is serving as owner's representative to the Trail Blazers for the fourth year. She has considerable experience in both the profit and nonprofit sectors. Patton heads up the Bellevue, Washington-based Vulcan Northwest Inc, and serves as director of the four Paul G. Allen charitable foundations. She also holds the position of executive director of The Jimi Hendrix Museum where she manages the museum's program development, construction, community outreach and staff. Her background also includes development work for the Pacific Northwest Ballet.

Active in the arts and education communities, Patton serves on the Washington Academy Performing Arts Board, the Meany Hall Advisory Board and the Lakeside School Building and Grounds Committee. Patton holds a bachelor of arts degree from Whitman College. She and her husband, Brian, are the parents of sons Duncan and Gardner.

Construction of the Blazers new home, the $262 million Rose Garden, is on schedule for the opening of the 1995 season. The new 20,000-plus seat arena will be part of a major sports and entertainment complex, to be known as The Rose Quarter.The complex is on Portland's central eastside, just across the Willamette River from the downtown area, and a short walk from the Oregon Convention Center.

MARSHALL GLICKMAN

Marshall Glickman serves as president for Trail Blazers, Inc., and Oregon Arena Corp., (OAC).

In his capacity with TBI, Glickman oversees Blazer Broadcasting, sponsor sales, client services, creative services, communications and special events. With OAC, Glickman is responsible for management of Memorial Coliseum and the Rose Quarter project, a $262 million sports and entertainment complex now under construction.

In addition, Glickman serves as president of Cutting Edge Concepts, which will operate all food and beverage concessions at The Rose Garden. He also serves as president of Razor Sharp Productions, a concert and sporting event promotions company, and the Aegean Corp., property developmer and owner of the Red Lion Inn at the Coliseum, all affiliates of TBI and OAC.

Glickman started in the Blazers front office in 1983 as manager of cable operations. In 1986 he became broadcast coordinator for the NBA and, after one year, was promoted to director of media sales for the league. He returned to the Blazers in August of 1988 as director of business development and was promoted to vice president of marketing in June of 1990. Later that year, Glickman was the point person on a feasability study for a new arena in Portland authorized by owner Paul Allen. In June of 1991, OAC was formed as a sister corporation to the Trail Blazers, and Glickman was appointed senior vice president.

An Oregon native, Glickman was graduated from Portland's Lincoln High School and from Lewis & Clark College. He is a board member the Portland Chamber of Commerce; Portland Metropolitan Sports Authority; Oregon Symphony; Vintage Trolley, Inc., and the American Advertising Museum. He is also a member of Oregon Graduate Institute's Chief Executive Roundtable. In 1992, Portland Sales and Marketing Executives, International, selected Glickman as the 1992 Marketer of the Year for his work on the Rose Quarter Project.

BOB WHITSITT

Bob Whitsitt is in his first season as president and general manager of Blazers Basketball. Named to the post on July 12, he oversees all aspects of the Trail Blazers basketball operations.

Whitsitt, the 1994 NBA Executive of the Year, came to Portland following a successful eight-year stint as the Seattle SuperSonics' president and general manager.

Prior to his arrival in 1986, the Sonics had won just 31 games in each of the two previous seasons and had ranked last in the league in attendance. During Whitsitt's tenure, the team posted a 377-279 (.575) record, capped by last season's club-record and NBA-high 63 victories that resulted in a sellout of every home game during the regular season and playoffs. Seattle joined Portland as being among five teams that have not had a losing season in the past seven years.He left Seattle July 1 and signed a contract with the Blazers that runs through the 1999-2000 season.

Whitsitt began his career in professional basketball with the Indiana Pacers as an intern in 1978 at the age of 22. He was promoted to director of business affairs and promotions the following year and became assistant general manager in 1981. In 1982, Whitsitt left the Pacers to join the Kansas City Kings as vice president, marketing director. Two years later, he was promoted to vice president, assistant general manager and joined the Kings in their move to Sacramento. At the age of 30, Whitsitt moved to Seattle as the NBA's youngest president.

A 1977 graduate in communications at Wisconsin-Stevens Point, Whitsitt received a Master's Degree in Sports Administration from Ohio State in 1978. He is a member of U.S.A. Basketball's Senior National Committee and a member of Young President's Organization. He also sits on the Board of Directors for Big Brothers of King County. The 38-year-old Whitsitt and his wife Jan have a daughter, Lily, and son, Sean. Jan, an attorney, once served as director of marketing and broadcasting for the SuperSonics.

BRAD GREENBERG

Brad Greenberg is in his third season serving as the Trail Blazers' Vice President of Player Personnel, a position he assumed following three seasons as director of player personnel. He assists in the job of inner-league communication regarding roster management decisions, helps coordinates the day-to-day management of the scouting operation, and continues to assist in the evaluation and acquisition of college, professional and international talent.

Greenberg spends much of the season scouring the colleges, CBA and international leagues for talent. His off-season is devoted to sizing up talent at summer league games and at international amateur events. Prior to assuming his player personnel position in 1989, Greenberg served as a Blazer scout for two seasons. He presently oversees a comprehensive scouting data base that assimilates information from thousands of scouting reports.

The 40-year-old Greenberg has nine years of NBA experience, including two seasons as assistant coach with the Los Angeles Clippers and one with the New York Knicks. He carried the dual roles of coaching and player personnel for two seasons with the Clippers. Greenberg played collegiate basketball under Jim Lynam at American University, graduating in 1977, and served as an assistant coach to him for one year at American followed by three seasons at St. Joseph's. Greenberg spent six seasons at St. Joseph's before joining Lynam in Los Angeles. In seven seasons in the collegiate coaching ranks, Greenberg's teams posted a 141-65 record and made two NCAA and three NIT appearances.

Brad and his wife Fran, a former Hoop Magazine columnist and CBA Director of Public Relations, live in Portland with their 8-year-old son Cory, and 3-year-old daughter, Ali.

P.J. CARLESIMO

As the Portland Trail Blazers embark on their 25th anniversary season, a new era begins on the court as P.J. Carlesimo takes over as head coach. Carlesimo, who became the eighth head coach in franchise history on June 23, 1994, comes to the National Basketball Association after a successful coaching career in the collegiate ranks.

"I'm very excited to have P.J. Carlesimo join the Trail Blazers as our new head coach," said Blazers' owner and Chairman Paul Allen. "His knowledge of the game, enthusiasm, dedication, and communication skills are qualities that I admire. I'm confident that P.J. brings the Blazers a strong foundation on which to build our future."

Carlesimo, 45, spent the last 12 seasons as head coach at Seton Hall University, where he compiled a career record of 212-166 (.561). Last year Carlesimo became only the second Pirate coach to go over the 200 victory mark at Seton Hall, joining Naismith Basketball Hall of Fame member John "Honey" Russell in that exclusive club. Since the 1990-91 season, the Pirates posted a 93-38 (.710) record en route to four consecutive NCAA Tournament appearances. He guided his team to six NCAA Tournament appearances in the past seven years, and five seasons with 20 or more wins.

Carlesimo was named head coach at Seton Hall in 1982, and guided the Pirates to the NIT—their first post-season berth in 10 years—in 1986-87. The following season he led Seton Hall into the NCAA tournament for the first time in school history. During his tenure at Seton Hall, Carlesimo guided the Pirates to an appearance in the NCAA Championship game in 1989, the BIG EAST Conference championship and an appearance in the NCAA Final Eight in 1991, a share of the BIG EAST Conference regular season championship and a slot in the NCAA's Sweet 16 in 1992, and BIG EAST regular season and Tournament championships in 1993.

His commitment and work ethic has earned him respect from many in the basketball community. "P.J. is totally enamoured with basketball," says Big East commissioner Mike Tranghese. "Basketball is P.J.'s life. That is what he does, and he does it very well. He's as well-liked and respected as anyone in the country. He works really hard at what he does, yet he also has the personality for it. I mean, how can you not like P.J.?"

"P.J. has matured so much as a coach and as a person," explained Seton Hall Athletic Director Larry

"He's an incredibly knowledgable basketball guy and a solid defensive coach who knows the game inside and out"

----Chuck Daly

Keating. "He has picked up a lot from the masters of the game. He's a great learner. One of the things in his self-development is that he knows how to learn, which a lot of coaches cannot do well."

His head coaching career began at New Hampshire College in 1975-76, where Carlesimo served in the dual role of athletic director/head coach. In his lone season there, he guided the Penmen to the Mayflower Conference crown and an NCAA tournament bid. He began a six-year-stint as head coach at Wagner College in 1976-77, and finished the final four seasons as the athletic director and head coach. In 1978-79 he guided the Seahawks to an NIT berth, the only post-season bid in the school's history, tying the school record for victories in a season with 21.

Very active in USA Basketball, Carlesimo served as an assistant coach on Chuck Daly's staff for the 1992 United States Men's Olympic "Dream Team", which debuted in Portland before going on to win the Gold medal in Barcelona.

"I think the fans in Portland should be very excited about P.J.'s hiring as head coach," said Daly.

"We had so much fun during our time together, and alot of that was because of P.J. He's an incredibly knowledgable basketball guy and a solid defensive coach who knows the game inside and out."

In May and June of 1993, he was head coach of "Team USA", a squad comprised of the nation's top collegians that competed against a number of national teams in Europe. He guided the USA Team to the Gold medal in the World University Games in Sheffield, England, in August of 1991, and in the summer of 1990, he served as an assistant coach for the United States team that competed in the Goodwill Games and the World Championships. In 1989 Carlesimo coached the East team in the U.S. Olympic Festival, and in 1988 he was an assistant at the Olympic Trials.

Carlesimo has served on a number of committees for USA Basketball, including the Player Selection Subcommittee and the Games Committee for Men. A member of the NCAA Basketball Officiating Committee, he is a past president of the Metropolitan Basketball Coaches Association and the New Jersey College Basketball Coaches Association. He was appointed to the Board of Directors of the National Association of Basketball Coaches in 1992.

His international coaching experience included nine summers in the Puerto Rico Superior League, and with the 1987 BIG EAST All-Stars that toured Australia, a team that included current Trail Blazer Clifford Robinson. Carlesimo has conducted clinics in several foreign countries and has coached in more than 200 international games.

An active participant in numerous charitable causes on the East Coast while at Seton Hall, Carlesimo has been involved in programs with the Boys and Girls Club of Newark, the New Jersey Special Olympics, EIES (Electronic Information and Educational Services of New Jersey), the American Cancer Society, the American Diabetes Association and the Epilepsy Foundation of New Jersey. In 1992, Carlesimo personally pledged $50,000 in a drive at Seton Hall to build a new on-campus library. "Right now it is important for me to set an example for everyone to support this drive. No campus building is more important than a library," he explained.

A 1971 graduate of Fordham University, he earned nine lettters in four varsity sports and competed in the NCAA basketball tournament during his final season as his team compiled a 26-3 record. Carlesimo, a bachelor, is the eldest of Mr. and Mrs. Peter A. Carlesimo's 10 children.

RICK CARLISLE

Rick Carlisle, who starts his sixth NBA season on the bench, is beginning his first season as an assistant coach with the Trail Blazers, under head coach P.J. Carlesimo.

Carlisle, 34, spent the last five years with the New Jersey Nets, where he had a wide range of responsibilities, including player development, scouting and serving as a bench coach. Hired initially by Bill Fitch as an assistant coach one month into the 1989-90 NBA campaign, Carlisle was retained by Chuck Daly and served as the most tenured coach with the club during Daly's two-year stint as the Nets' head coach. Carlisle spent the last three years primarily on the bench as an assistant coach for the Nets.

A five-year NBA veteran, Carlisle was Boston's third-round selection (69th overall) in the 1984 NBA Draft and was the only rookie to make the Celtics' squad that year. The following season, 1985-86, Carlisle earned a championship ring with the Celtics averaging 2.6 points in 77 games. During his playing career, which included stints with New York and New Jersey, he averaged 2.2 points, 1.1 assists and shot .422 from the floor with a .775 field goal percentage in 188 games played.

Carlisle began his collegiate career at the University of Maine before transferring for his last two years of eligibility to the University of Virginia. At Virginia, he averaged 11.1 points as a teammate of Ralph Sampson, the College Player of the Year, and studied psychology and business management.

JOHNNY DAVIS

For former Trail Blazer guard Johnny Davis, the 1994-95 National Basketball Association season allows him to come full circle in his career as he returns to the organization that he began his NBA career with in 1976. Davis, who begins his fifth NBA season on the bench, begins his inaugural campaign as an assistant coach on the staff of head coach P.J. Carlesimo.

A 10-year NBA veteran, Davis was Portland's second-round selection (22nd overall) in the 1976 NBA Draft. Davis earned a championship ring during his rookie year, averaging 8.0 points in 79 regular season games. He gained a starting spot midway through the playoffs when regular starting guard Dave Twardzik was injured. Davis responded by averaging 13.1 points in the last 11 playoff games. In his first playoff start, he scored a game-high 25 points, shooting 10 of 14 from the floor, as Portland clinched its Conference semi-final series with Denver. He was part of the dramatic final two seconds of the sixth and deciding game against Philadelphia, grabbing a crucial rebound tipped his direction by Bill Walton and racing down the floor as the clock ran out, giving the Blazers a 109-107 win and the World championship.

During his playing career, which included stints with Indiana, Atlanta and Cleveland, he averaged 12.9 points, 4.5 assists and shot .448 from the field and .821 from the line in 750 games..

Last season Davis was an assistant coach with the Los Angeles Clippers after serving as an assistant coach in Atlanta. Before he became an assistant coach with Atlanta, Davis was the Director of Community Affairs for the Hawks.

Davis played collegiately at the University of Dayton. He earned his business and community development degree from Georgia State University in 1987. Davis and his wife, Lezli, have two children, Reginald and Austin.

DICK HARTER

The 1994-95 National Basketball Association season marks the return of veteran coach Dick Harter to the state of Oregon. Harter begins his first season as an assistant coach with the Blazers.

Harter, 63, joins the Blazers after serving as an assistant coach with the New York Knicks for the last three seasons. He joined the Knicks staff following a year-long stint as a television color commentator with the Detroit. Harter returns to the state where he captured national attention at the University of Oregon, leading the Ducks to a 112-82 (.577) record from 1971-72 through 1977-78 and giving McArthur Court the reputation for being one of the toughest places to play in college basketball.

Harter made his NBA debut as an assistant coach under Chuck Daly at Detroit in 1983-84. Following a three-year term in Detroit, Harter served for two seasons (1986-87 and 1987-88) as an assistant coach with the Indiana under Jack Ramsay. On June 3, 1988, Harter was named the first head coach at Charlotte, and guided the Hornets during the franchise's first year and a half.

Prior to his NBA tenure, Harter enjoyed an 18-year collegiate head coaching career, compiling a 295-193 (.601) record with Rider College (1965-66); Pennsylvania, his alma mater (1966-67 through 1970-71); Oregon (1971-72 through 1977-78) and Penn State (1978-79 through 1982-83). At Penn, Harter's teams went a combined 53-3 during his final two seasons there. He earned Eastern Basketball Coach of the Year honors in 1971, when Penn ranked third in the nation with a 28-1 mark.

Harter's tenure at Oregon featured a tenacious style of play that earned his team the nickname "The Kamikaze Kids." Overall, Harter compiled a combined head coaching record of 319-287 (.526).

A 1953 graduate of Penn with a degree in education, Harter was a three-year letterman in basketball and helped lead his team to two Ivy League titles. After a three-year stint in the Marines, he coached at Germantown Academy in Philadelphia for two years.

Harter and his wife, Mari, live in Barton, Vermont, during the summer. He is the father of five children: Linda, Richard Jr., Jim, Robyn and Kerry.

JAY JENSEN

Veteran trainer Jay Jensen begins his first season with the Portland Trail Blazers. Jensen becomes only the fourth trainer in the 24-year history of the Blazers.

Jensen spent the last five seasons as the head trainer of the Minnesota Timberwolves. Prior to joining the Timberwolves in April, 1989, Jensen served two years as head basketball trainer at USC. He also worked for five years as the assistant trainer with the Los Angeles Rams. Last season, he served as trainer for the Western Conference team at the 1994 NBA All-Star Game.

Jensen, 34, holds bachelor's degrees in physical education and physical therapy from Loma Linda (Calif.) University and has earned credits toward a master's degree in sports medicine from Chapman College in Orange, Calif. He is just one of five trainers in the National Basketball Association that is both a certified athletic trainer (A.T.C) and registered physical therapist (R.P.T.). He is a certified member of the National Athletic Trainers' Association, California Athletic Trainers Association and the American Physical Therapy Association.

His background includes experience in orthopedic and sports rehabilitation, management and treatment of athletic injuries, aerobic fitness training, cardiac rehabilitation, joint mobilization, electrotherapy, acute care, nutrition for athletes, athletic taping and immobilization and cybex testing. Jensen is single and enjoys jogging and tennis.

Pick & Roll.

1. Pick one of our conveniently located BP service stations.
2. Roll on, with high quality BP Super.

On your next road trip, visit the nearest member of the BP team. We're located throughout Trail Blazer country with everything you need for a winning road record.

Get the best performance your car can deliver by using BP Super, our highest octane gasoline. Super, like all BP gasolines, has the highest level of engine cleaning power to cleanse your entire fuel system of the performance-robbing carbon deposits other gasolines may leave behind. With continued use of BP Super, intake valves, fuel injectors and ports get cleaned, and stay clean. And that means better performance.

In fact, we're so confident in BP Super, we guarantee it will not cause fuel system problems of any kind. If it does, we'll fix the problem, free of charge.

So make your next road trip a winner with high octane BP Super.

WE PUT OUR SALES PEOPLE IN A UNIQUE POSITION.

RINGTHEBELL on Archive.org

At Automated Office Systems we've created a certain flexibility that allows our salespeople to bend over backwards to provide you with a copier program that can fit your diverse needs. Because we carry our own leasing, you're able to upgrade easily if your needs change. Need to skip a payment? Sure, we can do that. What if your company makes all its money on December 5th. Can you get just one annual payment? darn right. Prefer to rent? Great, we can do that too.

From flexible leasing and renting arrangements to a flexible payment schedule, there's no other copier company in the Pacific Northwest that offers as much flexibility as we do. Canon offers the highest in quality and we back it up with flexible service.

Automated Office Systems is a user-friendly copier company– it's also the Northwest's largest Canon dealer.

For an office nearest you, give us a call at 1-800-275-1793.

EXPERIENCE AT THE SCORERS' TABLE....Six members of the white-sweatered stats and scoreboard crew working courtside at Portland Trail Blazers' home games own a special place in the club's 25th Anniversary celebration. The six---Lloyd Bergman, Chuck Charnquist, John Hilsenteger, Gordon Makinster, Bob Polich and Larry Sellers---have been keeping track of Blazers action since the team first took the floor on October 16, 1970.

Bergman has operated the 24 second clock since Game One; Charnquist put together the original Blazers stats crew; Hilsenteger typed play-by-play accounts of the games for years and now has a key spot in recording statistics by computer; Makinster has been the only official scorer in the team's history, missing just 6 of the 1,122 games (pre-season, regular and post-season) played by the Blazers in Memorial Coliseum; Polich has served as official timer for all but a few Portland home games, and Larry Sellers has been a member of the statistics crew since the first contest. The crew is recognized throughout the NBA as one of the league's finest.

Other current members include Julie Hilsenteger, who heads the computer stats recording operation; statisticians Mike Lund and Jim Hilsenteger; scoreboard operators Jay Wallace and Doug Peach; John Simmons, who watches over the Blazer Broadcasting stats; and Eric Charnquist, Neil Gomes and Karl Kellner---all members of a highly efficient team that manages the press room operations.

"Who's going to make sure the trees will be here tomorrow?"

"Not an easy question. But that's what my son asked the other day. He's thinking about it. Just like everybody. He wants to know if the trees will still be around when he grows up. Well, working for Georgia-Pacific like I do, I can tell him we're doing our part. Planting new trees by the millions. Setting aside land. Making sure the forests will always be here. For everybody. Of course, I can't speak for other companies out there. But I know we're doing what's right."

HIGHWAY 285 IN THE ROCKIES. EXPECT CRISP AIR, SPECTACULAR PEAKS, AND TALL, MAJESTIC TREES.

AND EXPECT THE UNEXPECTED.

Motorists on twisty Colorado Rocky Mountain roads face potential danger on any given curve. That's one reason Ron Meining, owner of Meining Automotive in Longmont, Colorado, installs a line of brakes that perform under these tough conditions: CARQUEST Brakes.

Ron knows that CARQUEST Brakes are made by the best names in the business to meet or exceed OE specifications. And by installing CARQUEST Brakes, Ron helps his customers avoid unexpected road hazards while he avoids costly comebacks.

Because you want top-quality parts that help your customers drive safely, use the parts installed by real pros like Ron Meining in real places like Longmont, Colorado: CARQUEST Auto Parts.

Ron Meining, ASE-certified Master Technician and owner of Meining Automotive, has been repairing cars for more than 22 years. At his ten-bay repair shop, Ron and three ASE-certified technicians install top-quality CARQUEST Auto Parts supplied by Green Flag Auto Supply, a CARQUEST store in Longmont, Colorado

A TRAIL BLAZERS COMMITMENT

...Friend, Neighbor, Teammate

Recognizing that we are a catalyst for community spirit, both the Blazers and the Oregon Arena Corporation are dedicated to taking an active role in our community. Our team and its players have an extraordinary opportunity, because of the visability afforded professional sports franchises, to reach out and have a positive impact. Our players, coaches and front office staff share a strong commitment to help empower the diverse communities that makeup our city, state and region. Youth, our most valuable resource, is our primary focus, but what truly motivates us in all of our community partnership efforts is knowing the positive impact these efforts can have at the grassroots level.The Trail Blazers and the OAC are more than just businesses---we are friends, neighbors and teammates in our community. Our goal is to provide leadership by promoting the kinds of values that are important to all of us.

The Trail Blazers and the OAC annually reach out to hundreds of local non-profit organizations, providing everything from staff expertise in the form of consulting to financial assistance. We also provide fund raising tools in the form of merchandise and autographed memorabilia, helping raise hundreds of thousands of dollars for worthwhile causes.

Oregon Teams are Alive and Kicking

Thanks to Oregon Lottery proceeds

A portion of Oregon Lottery proceeds is dedicated to helping Oregon's state colleges and universities remain competitive at the national level. Since 1989, these schools have received more than $6 million in Lottery proceeds to provide academic scholarships and strengthen their athletic programs.

With the help of Lottery dollars, women's athletics and non-revenue sports such as soccer, gymnastics, volleyball, and wrestling are able to attract some of the best student athletes in the country. In addition to these sports, all intercollegiate athletic programs benefit from Lottery proceeds, adding to their success.

Without these Lottery funds, the thrill of victory would be hard a goal to achieve – because players don't win if schools can't field a team. The Oregon Lottery – helping Oregon's student athletes compete with the best.

THE LONG AND THE SHORT OF IT----The longest game in Trail Blazers history was a four-overtime marathon March 16, 1984, against Chicago that lasted 3 hours and 24 minutes. The 1992 regular season windup on April 18 against the Los Angeles Lakers lasted 2 hours and 31 minutes, the longest regulation game on the books. The shortest game in Portland history was a 1 hour, 42 minute contest with the Lakers on Dec. 29, 1978. On Feb. 18, 1994, Portland and Philadelphia finished a game in 1 hour, 47 minutes that included a 4 1/2 minute delay when Sixers' center Shawn Bradley was injured.

WINDSTAR WILL FOREVER CHANGE THE WAY YOU THINK ABOUT FAMILY VEHICLES.

DRIVE A NEW WINDSTAR TODAY AT YOUR LOCAL NORTHWEST FORD DEALER.

The all-new front wheel drive Windstar establishes a whole new standard by which all others will be judged. It's longer and wider for better maneuverability and more interior space. Its ride is smoothest in its class. And because safety is so important, Windstar has more standard safety features than any other minivan including dual airbags and 4-wheel anti-lock brakes.

In the 24 years since the Trail Blazers joined the league as an expansion franchise, 12 different teams have won NBA titles and 14 different teams have been in The NBA Finals. However, of the 13 teams to come into the league since 1970—nine through expansion and four through merger with the old ABA—Portland is the only one to either reach the finals, which it did three times, or win a championship.

PORTLAND YEARLY ATTENDANCE

• For the 17th consecutive season, all of Portland's 1993-94 home games—41 during the regular season and two during the playoffs—were sellouts. That raised Portland's record for consecutive homecourt sellouts for regular-season and playoff games to 769, an all-time National Basketball Association record and the longest current streak in all of sports.

• The last time the Blazers failed to sell out a game was on April 5, 1977, when 12,359 turned out for a game with Detroit. The 11 millionth Blazer fan came to Memorial Coliseum on December 10, 1993, to watch Portland play the Los Angeles Lakers.

• In the 24 seasons of the Portland Trail Blazers francise, the team has drawn 11,421,750 fans for 982 regular season games, an average of 11,631 a contest. For 1,052 regular season and playoff games since the franchise began in 1970, the Blazers have drawn 12,318,333 fans for an average of 11,709 a game.

• Portland attracted 642,272 basketball fans to its 41 road games in 1993-94, an average of 15,665 a contest. For the entire 82-game 1993-94 regular season, home and road, attendance was 1,170,680, an average of 14,276.

• In four playoff games in 1994—two at home and two in Houston, the Blazers drew 58,464 fans, an average of 14,616 a game. Road attendance for two playoff games totaled 32,688, a 16,344-per-game average.

• Total 1993-94 attendance at all Blazer games for the year, regular season and playoff, home and away, was 1,229,144 for 86 contests, an average of 14,292.

PORTLAND TRADE HISTORY

NOTES TO TRADE HISTORY

1. If a third team is not mentioned in the transaction then assume any draft pick is the choice of the team Portland is trading with or is Portland's choice.
2. If a draft choice acquired in a transaction is subsequently traded by Portland in that original deal, the choice is listed as 'choice traded.' Everywhere else when referring to a draft choice, the player eventually selected by Portland or by the team ultimately receiving the draft choice is shown in parentheses.
3. In trades only what actually happened is given. If a team has several options in a deal only the one it ultimately uses is given.
4. Names in boldface indicate players who actually played for the Blazers.

Geoff Petrie is one of only eight players in the history of the NBA to score 2,000 or more points as a rookie. He led the Blazers in their first season by scoring 2,031 points, earning co-Rookie of the Year honors for his efforts. Geoff's first year performance puts him in select company. The list of other players to exceed that plateau as rookies includes five Hall of Famers—Wilt Chamberlain, Oscar Robertson, Walt Bellamy, Rick Barry and Elvin Hayes plus Kareem Abdul Jabbar and Michael Jordan. Robertson and Jordan are the only other guards to accomplish the feat and Jordan is the only rookie to do so since Petrie topped the 2,000 point mark 25 seasons ago.

1994 NBA DRAFT CHOICES

ACTIVE LIST: A team must carry a minimum of 11, and no more than 12, players on its active roster. At no time shall a team be permitted to dress fewer than eight players for a regular season game or nine for a playoff game. During the offseason and training camp, teams may carry no more than 20 active players.

INJURED LIST: Any player placed on the injured list due to injury or illness must sit out at least five of his team's regular-season games before he may be restored to the active list. For players injured near the end of the season, the rule is to mean the players must sit out five games or as many games as remain in the regular season.

TRADING DEADLINE: No trades or sales among teams are permitted after 9:00 PM Eastern time, February 23. From that point to the end of the regular season, player additions can be made through the waiver procedure or by acquiring free agents.

WAIVERS: From August 15 to the end of the regular season, clubs may claim waived players within 48 hours after notice. Players waived at any other time may be claimed within 10 days. If no teams claim the waived player he becomes a free agent. If more than one club claims a waived player, the team with the lesser record at that time claims the player. The waiver price shall be $1,000 per player payable to the League Office.

TEN-DAY CONTRACT: On or after the 55th day following the season's first game, a team may sign a player to a 10-day contract solely for the purpose of replacing an injured player. No player may be signed to more than two 10-day agreements by a single team in the same season.

GUARANTEED CONTRACT DATE: On the 56th day of the regular season all player contracts become guaranteed for the remainder of the season.

AMATEUR ELIGIBILITY RENUNCIATION: A player whose high school class has graduated shall become eligible for the college draft if he renounces his intercollegiate basketball eligibility by written notice to the NBA at least 45 days prior to the draft. Prior to 45 days before the draft, teams may not make direct or indirect contact with players who have eligibility left. Clubs may contact players without remaining eligibility but may not discuss compensation.

TRADING OF FIRST ROUND DRAFT CHOICES: No team may sell or trade its right to select a player in the first round of the college draft if the result of such an exchange would be to leave the club without first-round picks in any two consecutive college drafts.

PRE-DRAFT CAMPS: Prior to the college draft, teams are prohibited from conducting so-called "mini-camps" for prospective players eligible for the draft.

Clyde Drexler, in 1986, came up just one rebound shy of joining a small, select group of players in the NBA who have recorded quadruple doubles in a game. The latest to do it was David Robinson of San Antonio on Feb. 17, 1994. Clyde scored 26 points, dished out 11 assists and had 10 steals and 9 rebounds in a Jan. 10, 1986, Blazers victory at Milwaukee. Others who have scored quadruple doubles over the years are Nate Thurmond, Alvin Robertson and Hakeem Olajuwon.

* Portland paid Cleveland cash to not select Sidney Wicks with its first pick.
 Portland traded second choice (Jim Brewer) to Cleveland in exchange for John Johnson, Rick Roberson and an exchange of draft choices.
 Indiana trades its first choice (Mychal Thompson) to Portland for Johnny Davis and Portland's third choice (Rick Robey).

On July 5, 1983, Portland matched the offer sheet that Calvin Natt had signed with Cleveland. It was the only time, other than the matching of Terry Porter's contract in 1989, that the Blazers needed to exercise their right of first denial to retain a free agent.

Four of the six lowest scores ever recorded by Portland playoff opponents came in 1992. The Lakers' notched the lowest ever—76—in the first round series-deciding game on May 3 (losing 102-76). Other lows in 1992 included 79, also by the Lakers, 88 by Utah and 88 by Chicago. Ironically, the all-time playoff high by an opponent, 151, also happened in 1992, that by Phoenix in the Suns' two-overtime 153-151 loss to the Blazers in conference semifinals.

ALMOST AS MUCH FUN AS A BLAZERS' GAME, BUT WE DON'T CHARGE ADMISSION.

You can crank up the stereos, play video games, or watch a movie in our 4 THX home theaters. Or maybe you'd rather just wander around through the never-ending rows of refrigerators, dishwashers, and washers and dryers.

Everything's hands-on. And with the best prices and largest selection in town, you'll be able to get your hands on quite a lot.

Come check out Incredible Universe. It's like an electronics theme park where the admission is free, and so is the parking.

BLAZERS vs. CELTICS -- 1993-94 Game-by-Game

CELTICS 114, BLAZERS 108

at Boston, Dec. 3, 1993 (Game 15, 8-7)

A big Boston first half was too much for the Trail Blazers to overcome . . . The Celtics jumped to a 60-47 first half lead, fueled by a 38 point first quarter, the highest opening period output by a Blazers opponent all season . . . Paced by Clifford Robinson, who scored a game-high 28 points, Portland battled back in the second half to pull within six but could get no closer . . . The Blazers shot .447 from the field (42-94) but turned the ball over 21 times . . . The Celtics connected on 45 of 86 field goal attempts (.523) . . . Mark Bryant, starting at center for Portland, had a season-high 12 rebounds to lead his team to a 49-41 advantage on the backboards . . .Boston got a team-high 22 points and 8 assists from Rick Fox, who started in place of the injured Dee Brown . . . Xavier McDaniel and Robert Parish each scored 19 for Boston. . . Regular Celtic forward Kevin Gamble also sat out the game with an injured knee.

PORTLAND 102, BOSTON 93

at Portland, Feb. 20, 1994 (Game 51, 30-21)

The Trail Blazers outscored Boston, 62-34, in the middle two quarters and had a 26-point lead early in the fourth quarter as they snapped a four-game Celtic win streak in the series . . . It was Boston's franchise record-tying eighth straight loss . . . Portland's victory came despite a 37 percent field goal shooting chart (40-108), compared with the Celtics' 47 percent field goal mark (40-85) . . . The Blazers' success factor included protecting the ball for just nine turnovers, tieing a season low, and pounding out a 53-43 rebounding edge . . . The margin on the backboards included 21 offensive rebounds for 29 second chance points compared with 10 offensive boards and 11 putback points for Boston . . . Clifford Robinson shared game-high honors with Boston's Dino Radja, both with 24 counters . . . Buck Williams corralled 14 rebounds to go with 13 points . . . Portland had a big 27-8 edge in fastbreak points.

CAVALIERS 109, BLAZERS 100

at Cleveland, Dec. 7, 1993 (Game 17, 9-8)

The Cavaliers, shooting nearly 60 percent from the field, won their second straight over the Blazers for the first time since 1976-77 . . . It was the first season's sweep of Portland since Cleveland won all four games in 1975-76 . . . Clyde Drexler led all scorers in the game with 23 points while the Cavs' Chris Mills and John Williams checked in with 22 and 21 points respectively . . . Portland converted 36 of 86 field goal attempts (.419) while Cleveland was hitting on 45 of 77 (.583) . . . The Blazers pulled to within three, 79-76, early in the fourth quarter but the Cavs, making 11 of their first 14 shots in the period, went on a 14-point run and put the game away . . . Portland had a 42-39 rebounding edge . . . It was Portland's final appearance in Richfield Coliseum. The Cavs move to a new downtown Gateway Arena in the fall.

BLAZERS vs. CLIPPERS -- 1993-94Game-by-Game

CLIPPERS 97, BLAZERS 95

at Los Angeles, Nov. 5, 1993 (Game 1, 0-1)

Clifford Robinson's layup with seven seconds remaining gave Portland a 95-94 lead before Mark Aguirre clinched the win for the Clippers with a three-pointer at the buzzer . . . The Blazers were in the game despite shooting a season-low .363 (37-102) from the field and .581 (18-31) from the free throw line . . . The Clippers fired at a .506 (40-79) clip from floor but only .565 (13-23) from the line . . . Clyde Drexler led Portland with 25 points and 13 rebounds . . . Danny Manning paced LA with 24 points . . . The Blazers outrebounded the Clips, 48-44, and stole the ball 20 times, forcing 29 Los Angeles turnovers, but the Clippers blocked 12 shots to Portland's six . . . It was Portland's first season-opening loss in seven years and only the third in the last15 openers.

BLAZERS vs. HEAT -- 1993-94 Game-by-Game

BLAZERS 123, HEAT 109

at Miami, Nov. 30, 1993 (Game 13, 8-5)

Portland opened a rugged six-games-in-ten-nights Eastern road trip by turning in its best offensive performance to date . . . The Blazers shot a season-high .576 from the field (49-85), including 6 of 10 three-point attempts, while registering their sixth win in seven tries in Miami and their 12th in 13 meetings overall with the Heat . . . Clyde Drexler's 33 points on a 12-19 shooting performance topped all scorers in the game . . . Drexler was 3 of 4 and Terry Porter 3 of 6 from beyond the three-point circle . . . Buck Williams led all rebounders in the game with 14 as Portland bested the Heat on the backboards, 41-39 . . . Rony Seikaly led Miami scorers with 19 points as the Heat converted 40 of 86 shots for .465 shooting . . . Glen Rice added 18 points and Matt Geiger 17 for Miami . . . The Trail Blazers built a 61-57 halftime lead then outscored Miami, 52-52, in the second half to secure the victory.

BLAZERS 115, HEAT 110

at Portland, Jan. 14, 1994 (Game 35, 20-15)

Portland made it look easy in the first half, outscoring Miami, 66-50, but then made things difficult by scoring a season-low 14 points in the third quarter . . . But the Blazers held off the Heat down the stretch to keep their slate clean at home where they have won all seven games against Miami . . . Clifford Robinson, on a hot 12-of-16 shooting night, was the game's high scorer with 31 points . . . Rod Strickland, who had a near triple double by halftime (10 points, 9 assists and 7 rebounds) finished with 20 points and 11 pass offs . . . Glen Rice led the Heat point parade with 29 . . . Miami claimed a rebounding edge, this time 44-35 . . . The Blazers' Buck Williams lead all rebouders in the game with 13 . . . Portland shot 49 percent from the floor (41-84), slightly better than Miami's chart of 47 percent (41-88) . . . The Blazers turned 19 Heat turnovers into 29 points while Miami got just 9 points from 11 Blazers turnovers.

BLAZERS vs. BUCKS -- 1993-94 Game-by-Game

BLAZERS 93, BUCKS 81

at Portland, Dec. 19, 1993 (Game 24, 14-10)

Portland took the lead midway through the second quarter and never looked back, going up by as many as 17 points late in the game . . .The victory, a record sixth straight over Milwaukee, came with a price, however . . . Clyde Drexler went down with a severely sprained left ankle late in the first half (an injury that would knock him out for the next 13 games) . . .Before the injury, Clyde was having a big game, with 8 points, 8 assists and 6 rebounds in just 17 minutes of play . . .Terry Porter led the Blazers' scoring parade with 17 points and Buck Williams (6-6 from the field) tallied 15 points and grabbed 13 rebounds . . . Portland had a huge rebounding advantage, 54-29, that included 39 at the defensive end, and a second-chance margin of 25-8 . . .Frank Brickowski tallied 15 points to lead the Bucks . . . Portland shot 49 percent and Milwaukee 44 percent for the game . . . The 81 points was an all-time Buck low against the Trail Blazers.

BUCKS 111, BLAZERS 109

at Milwaukee, March 31, 1994 (Game 71, 41-30)

Terry Porter had a big night in his hometown and Clyde Drexler was on his game as well but it wasn't enough as the Milwaukee Bucks won at home for only the tenth time in 39 games and snapped a six-game Blazers win streak in the series . . .Porter scored a team season-high 36 points on 15-23 shooting that included 5 of 9 from three-point range (four of those in the game's last five minutes) . . .Drexler checked in with 33 points on 13-19 shooting from the floor and 6 of 10 from beyond the circle . . .But the Bucks came up with a big game of their own from Ken Norman who led all scorers with 37 points . . .Milwaukee, outrebounded, 54-29, the first time the two teams met, gained a 50-41 edge this time . . . Norman was the Bucks' leader with 13 boards . . .Portland shot a respectable .478 (44-92) but was only .588 (10-17) from the line . . . Milwaukee was .426 (40-94) from the field and .958 (23-24) from the foul stripe.

| 1974-75 | Kentucky | 58-26 | Denver | 65-19 | Kentucky |

In the 1975-76 season there was one division. Denver (60-24), won the regular season title with the New York Nets winning the championship series.

In the 24 years since the Trail Blazers joined the league as an expansion franchise, 12 different teams have won NBA titles and 14 different teams have been in The NBA Finals. However, of the 13 teams to come into the league since 1970---nine through expansion and four through merger with the ABA--- Portland is the only one to either reach the finals, which it did three times,or win a championship.

Portland is one of only two teams in the history of the NBA to come back after losing the first two games in The NBA Finals and go on to win the championship. The Trail Blazers did it in 1977, losing the first two at Philadelphia, then winning four straight, including the pivotal fifth game on the Sixers' home court. The other team to do so was Boston in 1969 when it went on to down the Lakers, 4-3.

The NBA Cares .....

The NBA, its teams, players and coaches share a commitment to supporting an improving the quality of life in their communities. Throughout the league, the NBA and its teams are involved in many public service initiatives.

Among them is the NBA Stay in School program, a joint effort of the NBA and the National Basketball Players Association, created in 1989 to address our country's critical high school drop-out problem.

The NBA Stay in School program has developed from a pilot project into a national initiative stressing the importance of a high school education. Program messages focus on the three A's needed for success in school: attendance, attitude and achievement, as well as encouraging young people to develop pride and self-esteem. Each season, the Stay in School message is spread to thousands of students by NBA players and coaches through school visits, assemblies and contests, reminding them that a solid education is the foundation to a better life.

Through public service announcements on television and radio and other awareness-building programs, the NBA and its players also support the work of Second Harvest, a national food bank network; Special Olympics; CARE, and the National Committee to Prevent Child Abuse. In addition each year, the NBA creates public service messages honoring the work and legacy of Martin Luther King, Jr., in January and Black History Month in February.

BILL SCHONELY

"Good evening basketball fans, wherever you may be. . ." With that statement Bill Schonely is doing what he does best, and what few others do nearly as well. For 24 years and 2,151 games, he's been bringing Trail Blazer basketball to radio and television fans from California north to Alaska. Only the Lakers' Chick Hearn (33 years) has been with his team longer than Schonely.

After a two-year stint as the play-by-play voice of the Trail Blazers television broadcasts, Schonely returns this season to the radio microphone to deliver play-by-play on all Blazers home and road games during the pre-season, regular season and post-season. Schonely reteams with Blazers radio analyst Mike Rice, with whom he worked for two seasons before moving to Portland's television broadcasts prior to the 1992-93 campaign.

Schonely's voice is perhaps the most recognizable in Oregon, as well as throughout the NBA. Schonz, as he's known to many, called his 2,000th Blazer game January 24, 1992, a 125-117 Blazer victory over Atlanta. With experience has come a reputation as one of the best play-by-play men in the business. He's also become a national commodity as narrator of the NBA promotional spots that cover the country's television markets.

A native of Norristown, Penn., Schonely served in the U.S. Marine Corps before settling in Seattle where he worked as sports director of KVI radio for seven years. He served as the voice of the Seattle Totems of the Western Hockey League (and would later work for the NHL's Oakland Seals), University of Washington football, and Seattle Angels and Seattle Pilots baseball teams. The Pilots departed after just one season and the newly-created Portland Trail Blazers of the NBA came calling in search of their first announcer.

Schonely is very visible in the Portland community regularly lending his support to many charitable causes, such as those sponsored by The American Heart Association, Doernbecher and the Kidney Association of Oregon. Bill and his wife, Dottie, reside in Lake Oswego.

STEVE JONES

One of the up-and-coming talents in the new era of the NBA on NBC, Steve Jones is certainly no stranger to Trail Blazer fans, or, for that matter, to NBA fans across the country. Jones is in his 12th year sitting courtside as analyst for the Blazer games broadcast by Blazer Cable and KGW Channel 8.

While honing his talents with Blazer Broadcasting since the 1976-77 season, Jones has become highly visible on the national scene the last seven years. He served three years with TNT and TBS before joining the NBC team when the network obtained the NBA's television rights prior to the 1990-91 season. Jones served as basketball analyst with Chick Hearn and Jim Durham in Barcelona, Spain as part of the NBC production of men's basketball during the 1992 Olympic Games. In that capacity he worked the equivalent of almost one-half of an NBA season, 36 games, in just two weeks.

Jones' broadcasting career began in 1976 (the season after he retired as a player with the Trail Blazers), when he became a color commentator for CBS. He was part of the network's announcing crew that handled the Blazers championship game against Philadelphia. Also that year, he served as color analyst for the Blazers. Jones continued for three seasons with CBS, also working with the Denver Nuggets during that time. He served a stint with the USA Cable Network as a commentator for NBA contests, working with new television play-by-play announcer Eddie Doucette.

Jones worked with Bill Schonely behind the Blazer radio microphone from 1979 until 1981, when he stepped aside to devote a full-time effort to the club's talk show, now known as "Courtside...with Steve Jones", which airs 85 minutes prior to every game. He co-hosts, with Blazers radio analyst Mike Rice, the weekly program "Courtside: Monday Night" throughout the year.

Jones is a native of Portland who led Franklin High School to the state basketball championship in 1959 before going on to a standout career at the University of Oregon. He paced the Ducks in scoring during the 1963-64 season. Jones earned all-star honors during eight seasons in the now-defunct ABA, then played the 1975-76 season with the Trail Blazers before retiring.

MIKE RICE

Veteran head basketball coach and basketball commentator Mike Rice begins his fifth year as analyst on the team's radio broadcasts.

Rice was an honorable mention All-America selection at Duquesne as a senior, when he led the Dukes to a third-place national ranking and an NIT invitation. Selected in the eighth round of the 1962 NBA Draft by the Detroit Pistons, Rice opted instead to pursue a career in coaching. After posting a 245-71 record (.773) in 13 years at the high school level, Rice entered the college ranks in 1977 as an assistant coach at his alma mater.

After being named head coach of the Dukes the next year, he guided them to a 62-49 (.559) record from 1978-1982. After leading Duquesne to two NIT appearances and twice-earning Eastern Eight "Coach of the Year" honors, Rice went on to Youngstown State in 1982. During his five-year tenure, the Penguins earned a 20-win season and two second-place finishes in the Ohio Valley Conference. Twice he coached squads to the title game in the OVC tournament.

Rice moved to the broadcast booth in 1987 as a college basketball analyst for ESPN. A regular on ESPN's "Big Monday" lineup, he provided commentary for the games in the Big West as the primary analyst for the Western Athletic Conference. In addition to numerous regular season contests, Rice has also worked women's NCAA regional championship games, the Division II national championship game and high school all-star games. In 1989, he added additional broadcast duties with SportsChannel America as the primary analyst on their World Basketball League broadcasts. The WBL was familiar territory for Rice, who joined the Youngstown Pride in 1987 first as head coach, and later as director of basketball operations.

His wife Kathy is a former Duquesne Duchess basketball player. The couple has two daughters, Susan and Stephanie, both graduates of Syracuse University where they played tennis and one son, Mike, who played basketball at Fordham University. In his free time, Rice enjoys hustling on the tennis court and golf course.

EDDIE DOUCETTE

Longtime National Basketball Association broadcaster Eddie Doucette begins his first season serving as the Trail Blazers' television play-by-play announcer. Moving to the television broadcasts represents a reunion for Doucette with his former broadcast partner, Blazers television analyst Steve Jones.

A 33-year veteran broadcaster, Doucette spent the last two seasons serving as the play-by-play announcer on Portland's radio broadcasts. Doucette, who joined the Trail Blazers for the 1992-93 campaign, has also announced NBA basketball action with the Denver Nuggets, Indiana Pacers, Los Angeles Clippers and Milwaukee Bucks. He handled play-by-play for the NBA Radio Network, and was behind the mike during the 1992 Western Conference Finals when the Blazers defeated the Utah Jazz.

Doucette also has 13 years of experience announcing major league baseball, having served as television voice of the Los Angeles Dodgers and five other big league clubs. He has broadcast National Football League action with the Los Angeles Rams and the Mutual Broadcasting Network. His resume also encompasses a seven-year affiliation with the USA Television Network, where he announced major league baseball, college football and basketball, Grand Prix tennis, pro boxing and NBA basketball with his new on-air partner, Blazers television analyst Steve Jones.

Known as a tireless community service worker, Doucette is the co-founder and executive vice president of the Midwest Athletes Against Childhood Cancer Fund, which raises one million dollars annually for childhood cancer research.

A native of Evanston, Illinois, Doucette is a graduate of Michigan State University, where he majored in broadcast communications. He and his wife, Karen, have two sons, Brett and Cory.

No Matter How Far The Journey The Need To Make It Home Is Basic.

Why is it the farther away we travel the more we think about home? Is it the fear of not making it back? Or is it just our natural instinct.

Whatever the reason, here's peace of mind: The 1995 Toyota 4Runner SR5 V6. With a legendary reputation for quality and reliability that has made the competition, well, a bit envious.

Just look at what the rugged Toyota 4Runner carries on every single journey.

Like a powerful V6 engine. "Shift-on-the-move" 4WDemand. 4Wheel Anti-lock Brakes.* Side-door impact beams. And child-protector rear door locks. Everything you possibly need for your journey into the unknown. Even if that's the corner of Broadway and Morrison.
